

Annual Report: 2013-14

Introduction

The Doon Library & Research Centre completed seven years of existence in December 2013. The journey that we embarked upon seven ago has been a momentous and enjoyable one. We can now say with some confidence that we have achieved a fair degree of stability and are being recognised as an important institution serving the book loving people of the city. Ample evidence is provided by the steady increase in our membership as well as the constant flow of readers to the library. We have reason to feel satisfied, though not complacent, by the progress made by us in this short period of seven years. The number of books on our shelves crossed 20,000 during the year, while the membership was close to 1,800. All through the day there is a steady stream of readers in the library. Both our reading rooms are crowded with readers. Many a time people don't find space to sit. It is indeed a very satisfying sight to see a large number of young people – both boys and girls – sitting for hours together in the reading room busy with books.

Many of them are preparing for some competitive examination, and a fair number have also been qualifying. What better testimonial to our contribution than that we have helped many a young person qualify for a job. During the winter months this year again groups of boys and girls could be seen sitting in the sun in our tiny lawn and either studying their own books or holding discussion related to their studies. They informed us that they find the library premises a conducive place to study and discuss among themselves. How we wish we could give them a larger lawn with pleasanter surroundings!

Our biggest problem now is the severe shortage of space. We are desperately trying to get some more space in the present location so that we are able to provide much better service to our members and readers, which they certainly deserve. The one big advantage of our present location is our central location; it is easily accessible. We do not want to forsake this advantage. Thus our effort is to somehow expand our space at the present location. Our ambition and effort is to build a first rate, state-of-the-art library in Dehradun, which the enlightened citizens of Dehradun richly deserve.

Highlights of the work and progress of the Doon Library & Research Centre during the year are detailed below.

Library

Despite severe shortage of space the library continued to add to its collection of books. At the end of the year it had a total collection of 20,132 volumes as compared to 17,971 at the end of the previous financial year. Thus 2,181 books were added during the year, as compared to 2,482 during the previous year. The year also saw a steady increase in membership from 1,515 (1,417 annual members and 98 life members) at the end of last year to 2,011 at the end of the current year (1,811 annual members and 130 life members).

Month-wise information on books added – purchased and donated – and new members is given below:

The library is increasingly being used by young people preparing for some competitive examination. On any working day a large number of them can be seen spending hours in our reading rooms. Over the years many have also been qualifying and getting sundry jobs. Based on information voluntarily given by such people we find that 72 library users have succeeded in securing jobs after qualifying in examinations between 2007 and 2013. It is especially gratifying to note that the number of successful persons has been on the rise over this period from 2 in 2007 to 15, 12 and 22 in 2011, 2012 and 2013 respectively.

Talks, Discussions etc.

Apart from stocking books and subscribing to journals, periodicals and newspapers for the benefit of its members and readers, the Doon Library & Research Centre has over the past three years also developed as a centre for related activities like talks on subjects of contemporary and topical significance by local experts, panel discussions, presentations, seminars etc. to provide a forum for informed discussion and exchange of ideas to the citizens of Dehradun. The idea is to make the library a living institution in regular contact and dialogue with its members and the general public. The success of this activity is evident from the fact that from time to time we receive suggestions for talks or discussions on specific topics and subjects, or for inviting particular persons to give a talk. We welcome all such suggestions and try our best to respond to them. However, we do have our limitations, the most significant being that we do not have our own hall and are dependent on hiring halls outside, which may not always be available within our means, which prevent us from holding more programmes.

Discussion on Batrohi's novel Garbhagriha mein Nainital

A discussion on the new novel Garbhagriha mein Nainital by the well-known writer Laxman Singh Bisht 'Batrohi' was organised on April 20, 2013. Senior writer Shri Subhash Pant presided and Shri Pankaj Bisht, editor of the journal Samayanter, Shri R. S. Tolia, former Chief Information Commissioner and Chief Secretary Uttarakhand were distinguished guests. Many eminent writers from Delhi viz., Devendra Mewadi, Harisuman Bisht, Secretary Hindi Akademi, Delhi, Executive Editor, Karmabhoomi Samvad, Charu Tewari, Kshitij Sharma and Chandan Singh Dangi; and from Dehradun viz. Navin Naithani, Vijay Gaur, Trepan Singh Chauhan, Geeta Gairola, Atul Sharma, Gurudeep Khurana, Mukesh Nautiyal, Prof. Dharendra Sharma, Bhanupratap Singh and others were present and talked about the novel. The programme was conducted by Shri Chandra Shekhar Tewari, Research Associate Doon Library & Research Centre.

Talk by Ram Babu 'Jungle'

The Doon Library & Research Centre organized a talk on forests, wildlife and the environment for the young readers and users of the library by Shri Ram Babu 'Jungle' on August 24, 2013. 'Jungleji', as he prefers to be called, has a deep knowledge of wildlife and forests of Uttarakhand derived from his close observations of animals in their natural habitat, having spent his whole life roaming and living in forests. He gave a simple but forceful message of protecting the environment especially forests and wildlife to the youth. He pointed out that the gradual depletion of forests is having an adverse impact on the habitat of wild animals so that they are now being forced out of the forests into human habitations resulting in increasing incidence of man-animal conflicts. The answer to this problem lies in preservation of natural forests and the habitat of wildlife. 'Jungleji' can impersonate the call of a large number of wild animals and birds. He gave a short demonstration of this skill to the delight of the young audience.

Talk by Sir Mark Tully

A talk by the well-known writer, journalist and former Delhi Bureau Chief of BBC Radio, Sir Mark Tully was organized by the Doon Library & Research Centre in collaboration with the Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, Dehradun Branch on July 30, 2013. In his illuminating talk before a full house Mark Tully touched upon a number of important issues before India and spoke warmly about his own experience of the country gained over his long stint as a journalist which took him to various parts of India, including some remote areas. At the same time he did not hold back any punches while criticising criminalisation of politics and was all praise for the Election Commission He laid emphasis on the need for institutional development His latest book No Full Stops in India remained at the center of Mark Tully's talk, as well as of three other speakers, well-known Doon based author I. Allan Sealy, former Director-General Police A. B. Lal, and author Arvindar Singh, who discussed his book. Mark Tully's former colleague and co-author of Amritsar: Mrs Gandhi's Last Battle also spoke on the occasion. The programme was anchored by Dr B. K. Joshi, Director Doon Library & Research Centre.

Panel Discussion

A Panel Discussion on Secularism, Diversity and Inclusion was organised on August 17, 2013. The panellists included Dr Sekhar Raha, Ms. Jo Chopra and Dr B. K. Joshi. The panel discussion was followed by a lively question and answer session and discussion. The audience included a number of students from MKP PG College and Hope Town school.

Dehradun launch of Finding Neema by Juliet Reynolds

On November 06, 2013 the library organised the Dehradun launch of the book Finding Neema written by the Doon based writer Juliet Reynolds. The book deals with the experiences of the author and her late husband in dealing with and coming to terms with raising an autistic child of their maid, whom they ultimately adopt. The programme started with the screening of three short films on autism. Juliet Reynolds talked about her experiences and frustrations in dealing with an autistic child, and also read excerpts from the book. A panel of three persons viz., Roshan Dalal, Arvindar Singh and B. K. Joshi talked about the book. A special feature of the occasion was the presence of Neema, the main subject of the book, who was invited to share the stage with the panellists. The presentations and readings was followed by a question and answer session. The programme was anchored by Rajen Brijnath, Adviser, Doon Library & research Centre.

Discussion on Uttarakhand ki Lok Bhashayein by Dr Achalanand Jakhmola

On December 13, 2013 a discussion on the book Uttarakhand ki Lok Bhashayein: Garhwali, Kumaoni aur Jaunsari written by Dr Achalanand Jakhmola, a well-known authority on languages of Uttarakhand Himalaya, was organised. The book has been published by the Doon Library & Research Centre jointly with Winsar Publishing Company. Dr Jakhmola gave a broad overview of the book. The Chief Guest for the function was the leading Hindi poet Shri Liladhar Jagudi, while Shri Muniram Saklani, Secretary, Pitambar Datt Barthwal Hindi Academy was the distinguished guest. A large number of litterateurs and distinguished persons attended the function. Dr B. K. Joshi, Director Doon Library & Research Centre welcomed the guests and Shri Chandra Shekhar Tewari, research Associate, Doon Library & Research Centre was the anchor for the function.

Film Related Programmes

Screening of 'Rajanigandha'

The film 'Rajanigandha' was screened under the joint auspices of the Doon Library & Research Centre and World Integrity Centre on April 19, 2013. Prior to the screening Dr Manoj Panjani, Research Associate, Doon Library & Research Centre talked about the making of and other matters related to the film. Rajanigandha is based on the short story 'Yahi Sach' by Mannu Bhandari published in 1954. Urdu writer Ms. Naseem Bano gave a reading of the story before the screening which was followed by a talk on depiction of women in stories written by women writers. This talk was given by Rashmi Rawat, Lecturer of Hindi, Delhi College of Arts And Commerce, New-Delhi.

Exhibition on Hundred Years of India Cinema

An exhibition on "Hundred Years of India Cinema" consisting of photographs and news reports, many of them quite rare, was organised in the Library premises for two weeks. A special feature of the exhibition was that many photographs and reports pertained to people working behind the camera who do not appear on the silver screen, but whose contribution to the making of films is extremely important. On the conclusion of the exhibition the 1971 film Tere Mere Sapne directed by Vijay Anand was shown. Material for the exhibition was from the private collection of Dr Manoj Panjani, Research Associate DLRC. He also answered the questions of the visitors and shared information about the exhibits with them.

Screening of When Four Friends Meet

On May 18, 2013 the film When Four Friends Meet was screened by Shri Atul Gupta before the young library users. The film has been directed and presented by Rahul Roy and script is by Saba Dewan and Rahul Roy. It deals with issues of adolescence, coming to terms with their sexuality, and relations with the opposite sex among youth. The screening was followed by a discussion facilitated by Shri Gupta.

Discussion on war in Hindi cinema and screening of short film on Vijay Anand

A discussion on the theme of 'War in Hindi Cinema' was organised at the Doon Library & Research Centre on January 4, 2013 in which Dr Purushottam Upadhyaya, Dr Atul Sharma, Ms. Naseem Bano, and Dr Manoj Panjani Research Associate, Doon Library & Research Centre participated.

A short film on well-known director Vijay Anand was screened on 24, January 2013

Prof. D. D. Sharma Collection in the Library

Family members of the late Prof. D. Sharma, well-known scholar of Sanskrit, Linguistics, languages and culture of the Himalayan region, donated his private collection of books to the Doon Library & Research Centre, as desired by Prof. Sharma before his death last year. The collection consists of 441 books, many of them quite rare and out of print, on a variety of subjects viz. Sanskrit, Linguistics, Culture, History, languages of the Himalayan region, dictionaries of various languages etc. representing the range of his intellectual interests. The books have been placed in a special Prof. D. D. Sharma Collection inaugurated by Shri N. S. Napalchyal, Chief Information Commissioner Uttarakhand and former Chief Secretary Uttarakhand at a simple ceremony on September 17, 2013 in the presence of Prof. Sharma's son, Col. Manoj Sharma (who gave the books to the library) and a number of literary personalities of the city.

Prof D. D. Sharma (born 23 October 1924 at Bhimtal; died 16 March 2012 at Haldwani) retired as Professor and Head of Department of Sanskrit, Panjab University, Chandigarh. Apart from Sanskrit his other academic interests included Linguistics, Ancient Indian History and Culture in which he made important research contribution. He was familiar with more than 15 languages including French, German and Persian. His publications include more than four dozen books and over two hundred research papers. Some of his well-known books include Cultural History of Uttarakhand, Tribal Languages of Uttarakhand, Tribal languages of Ladakh, Madhya Himalaya ke Khas. He was a recipient of numerous awards. In 2010 he was conferred the Padma Shri by the President of India

Research

The research study "We are neither of the hills nor of the city: " by Dr Manjari Mehta, a well-known anthropologist based in Dehradun, on the problems of recent migrants to the Doon valley from the adjoining mountain villages of Tehri Garhwal district was completed during the year and the report is now ready for publication in the form of a monograph.

Dr B. K. Joshi and Shri Chandra Shekhar Tewari were also involved in two research studies. One was supported by the Himmoththan Project (an initiative of the Sir Ratan Tata Trust) on the "Status of primary education in three districts of Uttarakhand". This was completed during the year. The other, which is ongoing, is on the "Cumulative socio-economic impact and impact on places of religious and cultural importance of hydropower projects in the Alaknanda and Bhagirathi basins" is supported by Alternate Hydro Energy Centre, IIT Roorkee.

Assistance for people affected by the June disaster

The staff and members of the Doon Library and Research Centre collected eleven thousand rupees for the people affected by the unprecedented disaster that struck Kedar valley and Badrinath-Hemkund region in Chamoli district and parts of Uttarkashi, Pithoragarh and Bageshwar districts caused by heavy rain during June 16-17, 2013. Assistance in the form of children's books worth five thousand rupees was also provided to Gramin Vikas Samiti, a Pithoragarh based NGO working with displaced women and children in a rehabilitation camp in Dharchula.

Publications

We continued to publish our bilingual (Hindi and English) newsletter Himadri to disseminate information about the library and its various activities among members and the general public. It is distributed among our members, supporters, well-wishers and selected institutions within the country. It is also available on our website.
